2022	10c	$1.40 - $4	9.1 m	Scarce
2023	From Vegemite Mint Set	$7 - $17.50	unlimited	Only produced for non-circulating sets
Coin Error	Double Lyrebird Double Reverse Error	$1,220 - $3,300	Unknown	Lyrebird on both sides of the coin – Minting Error Historic sale

Note: Look for extra bits of metal on coins called CUDs (Coin Under Developed), (google images for reference).

Errors: Die cracks and laminations can occur in all years. Check for cracks across the coin or raised ridges of metal across the coin.

Coins other than the 10 cent coins listed can sell higher than their face value. Coins in good condition will attract a higher price and error coins can also be quite valuable. For values on specific coins outside of the ones listed search and filter to sold items on eBay to see what people are willing to pay. Enjoy the search!

1999 Small Head and Large Head 10c

The large head is rarer and harder to find. The easiest way to tell the difference is to look at the words around the edge of the coin. If the words are pushed up close to the rim then it is a large head and if there is a bigger gap between the rim and the words it's a small head. See below.

AUSTRALIAN 5 CENT COINS TO SEARCH FOR

There are many 5 cent coins to search for and find. Prices vary depending on the condition of the coin. Price ranges listed are from recently sold items on eBay in 2024, with some historic sales from various sources.

Flamingo Error Coin

Extra bit of metal off the rounded end of the 5. When upside down it looks like a flamingos head.

Alien Antennae 5 Cent Coin 2016

Antennae like structures from the circle on the coin, not suppose to be there.

1994 Large SD 5c

It's rare to find the large SD on a 1994. Look to the S to identify it. It's quite vertical in structure with not much rounding at the top and bottom.

2007 Double Heads (Double Obverse) 5c

Queen's head on both sides of the coin

Some historic sold prices: $2,700 $2,300 $2,000 $1,900 $1,400 $900

1966 5c

1966 5c were minted in two different locations, Canberra and London. To determine the difference check below.

5 cents 1966 Canberra Mint (left picture) with a short spine on the right shoulder of the echidna

5 cents 1966 London Mint (right picture) with a much larger spine there:

1981 5c

The 1981 5c was minted in three locations, Australia, Canada and Wales

Australia: 5 cents 1981, km66, Canberra, Winnipeg & Llantrisant mints

For the Wales minted 5c the Queen's tiara ball (closest to the rim) is further away from a thinner coin rim

For the Australian minted 5c the Queen's tiara ball (closest to the rim) is closer to a thick rim.

Colour Scale and What They Represent

Red for Rare Error Coins
Green for Mint Set Coins
Yellow for expensive coins
Blue for rare (under 5 million mintage) not including coloured $2 coins
Pink for scarce (between 5-10 million mintage) not including coloured $2 coins

How to Quickly Value Your Coins and Banknotes

I use this method daily to value coins and banknotes in minutes and you can too!

Here are the steps:

Search eBay by entering the details of the coin or banknote you want a value on in the search bar.

A list of items will come up for sale with prices that the sellers are asking.

That gives you a bit of an idea but what a seller is asking and what a buyer will pay is different.

So you want to filter your search to sold items.

On the eBay phone app, once you have entered a search description, click the blue 'filter' word that is on the top right of your screen. Then scroll down to 'Sold items' and click it.

On a computer you look on the left of your screen and scroll down until you see 'Sold items' and click that.

This will give you a list of all the items that have sold recently (with dates) and the prices they sold for.

It's important to try and match up the condition of your item with one that has sold. The sold item that is most similar, condition wise, is the most accurate reflection of the value of your coin or banknote. It's what that buyer was willing to pay for it.

You can click on the sold listing and have a look at the photos and read their description. You can also click on the blue words that say: 'Sell one like this' which will link you to a template the seller used to list their coin or banknote. You add your photos and adjust the details to suit your selling requirements and list it.

The book, 'Renniks Australian Coin and Banknote Values' is another resource I use regularly, especially for banknotes. There is a link to this book here: https://linktr.ee/coincollecting\_detecting

I hope the values you're seeking are high!

Have a great day.
